"Glorious songs delivered with a laid-back freedom we've seldom heard before make Say What You Feel the most satisfying album of his 25-year solo career."
 - Nigel Williamson, Uncut Magazine

"The iron fist in the velvet glove of Irish Music" -Bono

"Celebrated as a singer, songwriter and multi-instrumentalist of rare gifts, Paul Brady is an artist who has made an indelible impression in both traditional and pop-rock genres." - The Wall Street Journal

"For the better part of 35 years, Paul Brady has succeeded in changing the face of Irish traditional and popular music." – Acoustic Guitar Magazine

"It is easy to understand Brady's appeal as both a performer and a tunesmith...his voice is infused with a heartfelt passion." - People Magazine

"Paul Brady is certainly one of the most underrated of our brilliant singer/songwriters and his melodic sense is the best of anyone I've heard. For me, where he's coming from – his music, lyrics, and soul – are on a level of the greatest songwriters." - Bonnie Raitt

Paul Brady's knack for insightful, soulful compositions, as first displayed on classic albums like Hard Station, Trick or Treat and Spirits Colliding remains in full blossom.

Say What You Feel, his first studio album in four years, marks a new chapter in his heralded career. With this album, Paul has rediscovered an uninhibited style of singing and playing. The freedom he found in his music was a direct reflection of the creative, relaxed atmosphere surrounding the recording of the album in Nashville. Organic and stripped down, Say What You Feel is an album that reminds us why Brady has a career that has endured through the years, resulting in over half a million of his own albums sold, and over 35 million albums sold by artists covering a Brady-penned song. The album contains a stunning display of honesty, warmth, wisdom and humor, with each track taking the listener on new journey. Highlights include the almost taunting, "Smile", the catchy, "Love in a Bubble" and a vocal appearance by Bonnie Raitt on the socially aware, "Doin' it in the Dark."

Say What You Feel proves once and for all Paul Brady is an incomparable songwriter and performer continuing to elevate his music to new heights.
